TSARITSYNO MANOR: - This beautiful red and white architectural ensemble is the biggest neo-gothic building in Europe. Having a rough history it was first built as a luxury cottage for Empress Catherine the Great, destroyed, rebuilt after the original plan, abandoned during Communist times, then restored, and inscribed as a historical protected area in the late 2000's. It hasn't lost its original charm and still is one of the most beautiful and picturesque places besides the historical center of Moscow.
